

EVERYONE HAS A TOUCH OF STYLE—NO MATTER WHAT YOU

You simply cannot be out of style. It does not make any difference what you wear you are fashionably dressed.

Every sort of fabric is correct this year. It is a great chance for made-over clothes, because all the odds and ends can be put together. Chiffon, silk, velvet, ribbon, fringe, braid, buttons, lace, embroidery, indeed the more things one uses in the construction of a frock the handsomer it is.

A stunning gown to be worn at informal afternoon affairs, for simple dinners or at a card party is contrived of black chiffon, peacock blue satin, black fringe and iridescent beads.

The foundation of the gown is of the peacock blue and the tunic is of chiffon. This is bordered with a heavy black fringe and an embroidered band of silk, made gay with iridescent beads heads the fringe. Bands of the beads are upon the blouse and sleeves.

Heavy macrimé lace seems inconsistent with a fabric as thin as chiffon, but it is effective when combined with this sheer material.

A very handsome gown is made with the under petticoat of apricot pink. This is long, having a train about three inches. The tunic is wrapped about, lapping at the left side. The tunic proper is edged with black velvet, the gold patterned macrimé lapping the velvet and narrow bits of the lace being used on the over seam.

In the bodice the lace is used next to the silk and partially veiled with black chiffon. A black belt edged with
